go public!

- ◇ make these maps public!
- ◇ show to relevant stakeholders, email to local organizations, institutions, local newspapers, etc
- ◇ it's a waste to keep such revealing maps in a drawer what now?

- ◇ education is a process of turning $ into knowledge, now reverse the process and turn knowledge into $:)

academia: assisting faculty

- ◇ most faculty want maps but lack gis skills
- ◇ this is where you come in
- ◇ ask faculty around if they need help with data
- ◇ don't sell yourself cheap
 - ask to be a coauthor
 - make $

research institutes/think tanks/postdocs etc

- they have a ton of data
- and need people like you to map it

non-academic, real world jobs

- ◇ any organization has data
 - libraries, gas stations, fire departments, hospitals, etc
- ◇ just search for gis jobs

jobs

◇ gis

- <http://www.cybercoders.com/>
- (many more)

let's stay in touch

- ◇ i am always happy to discuss gis
- ◇ keep in touch!
